

INTERNATIONAL ECONOMICS Profile of Educational Programme

Degree	Specialty	Educational Programme	Duration of studies
Bachelor	Economics	International Economics	3 years 10 months (8 semesters)
Master	Economics	International Economics	1 year 4 months (3 semesters)
PhD	Economics	International Economics	4 years (8 semesters)

WHAT STUDENTS STUDY

- International Economics
- International Currency Transactions
- International Trade
- Global Regionalization
- Conjuncture of World Market
- International Economic Analysis
- International Economic and Financial Organizations
- Global Economy
- Innovative Strategy of the Traditional Development
- International Management
- Management of International Competitiveness

ADVANTAGES OF CHOOSING THIS PROGRAMME

- becoming an expert in international economics, international economic policy, international economic relations;
- qualification of Economist enabled to work as a Manager of International Business Development, Economist of International Trade, Expert on Foreign Economic Issues, Consultant on External Economic Affairs in either state- or privately-owned agencies and institutions, national and international cooperations;
- the ability to solve complicated tasks and practical problems in economics;
- the ability to describe economic and social phenomena and processes, analyze and interpret the results meaningfully on the basis of theoretical and applied models; to understand the features of the world and national economy, the institutional structure, directions of the economic policy of the state (for the whole economy).